With his exit from Maryland be has accomplished some twelve thousand miles of travel during the presen campaign. Before election day he will have exceeded his mileage record of 1896, which was a trifle over fifteen thousand. At the same time he will not equal his previous record in the total number of speeches delivered. The physical endurance of Mr. Bryan con-

who can make 28 speeches in a single day, as Bryan did in 1896. During the recent trip through New York of four days he made 68 addresses-truly a heroic performance from the strenuous standpoint.

Mr. Bryan is a free and easy speaker -free because he uses no notes, and easy because he never hesitates for a word. Aithough he does so much talking, it must not be supposed that it is all on the oratorical order. Far from it. And herein lies the secret. At the small gatherings that surround the car platform Mr. Bryan speaks not louder when the waving arm will serve him better than the voice. He does not at-tempt such a thing as howing down a

It is far easier to let it nowl itself down.
Then Mr. Bryan has other little artifices to save his strength. Like Napoleon, he is given to cat paps on short notice. Between stops he wastes little energy in conversation. After the big addresses, like the one at Baltimore, he is treated to a rub-down and a change of linen. He neither smokes nor drinks, but has a good apetite. In ais enunciation of words he is saving even of the syllables. In long words ne runs the syllables together rapidly, and he has learned that the vowel carry the sound, so he saves on conso-nants. These are trifles, but in the aggregate they count.

ENTIRE FAMILY SHOT .- Bert Atkins, the 14-year-old son of Dr. R. A. Atkins, of Newdort News, yesterday, shot William Richardson, his wife and their two children. The shooting was accidental, but, unless the father's condition changes for the better, a tragedy may result. It seems that young At-kins was returning from a gunning trip in the nearby woods, and his party became involved in trouble with a negro.
